Dear PJ,

I'm out of songs and poems. Maybe next month. Until then, enjoy!

Oh oh oh, news.

Chris will start working at TSC on Camp Pendleton on Monday, so stop in and say hi to her and welcome her to our dive family.

Also, we'd like to welcome our new divemasters, Adrian and Jeanie aboard.

AND get in the water, it's been AMAZING (like no-gloves-nor-hoods amazing).

OK, now I'm done. Really. Except for the rest of the newsletter.

Congratulations! Now get to work, team. It's time to reorder t-shirts (and hoodies, if you want them), let Fred know if you have any design ideas.

Upcoming Classes

OSSC

We have an Underwater Digital Photography Class coming up in mid August, if you've ever been interested in taking those photos that convince other people to dive, this is your shot (haha, get it?).

We're also in the process of organizing an Advanced Open Water Class in Catalina, let us know if you're interested!

Also, if you're interested in learning about Spearfishing Techniques, let us know. We're organizing an inexpensive class that will be led by some industry big shots!

July Channel Islands Trip, July 3-5, 2011

By Dylan Johnson

The three-day trip to the Channel Islands aboard the Conception easily ranks among my top diving experiences. I cannot think of a better way to start a day than waking up to the smell of fresh coffee and a hot breakfast with all my gear set to dive.

Dylan's Dive Buddy

Every dive was a unique experience. While one dive had us swimming through amazing kelp forests with giant sheep heads and schools of senioritas, another would have us along an underwater wall teeming with life, and the next playing with groups of harbor seals. We had a great group of divers and had as much fun outside the water as we did while diving. This was a fantastic trip that has deepened my love for diving.
